COTTON.—The yield of Cotton has of late years been greatly increased by the use of artificial fibres, containing a fair proportion of ammonia and much soluble phosphate of lime, potash, and other alkaline salts. Dissolved Peruvian Guano meets the requirements of the Cotton plant, insomuch as it furnishes all the elements of fertility, and has assimilated to its fibres the greater portion of the inorganic quantity made the chief object, 4 to 5 parts of dissolved Peruvian Guano per acre will be highly beneficial.

TEA.—Judging from the limited experience we can command with regard to the manuring of tea plantations, we confidently recommend to our customers to apply to the undersigned, whose reports we shall be glad to receive.

INDIAN CORN.—Three to four parts of dissolved Peruvian Guano per acre exerts a powerful effect upon Indian Corn, and largely increases its crop.

BIG.—We have strongly recommended the use of 2 to 3 parts of Lime, &c., for the stock, irrigation, &c., especially adapted upon a manure of producing a good crop of Rice, there can be no doubt that, in addition to 2 or 3 parts of Dissolved Peruvian Guano per acre, will be highly beneficial.
